

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Anne Billeter
Tel. 541.944.3802
billeter@entwood.com

THE STORYTELLING GUILD PRESENTS THEIR 46TH ANNUAL CHILDREN'S FESTIVAL
AT THE BRITT FESTIVAL GROUNDS IN JACKSONVILLE
July 7-9, 2012

Don't miss the 46th Annual Children's Festival as this year's theme "Book by Book, Pages come to Life" takes us on new adventures. Sponsored by the Storytelling Guild of Jackson County, this innovative 3-day event will take place July 7 - 9 at the Britt Festival Grounds in Jacksonville and will bring out the creativity of both the young and young at heart.

This "just for kids" event has served as an affordable summertime experience in the Rogue Valley for generations. Admission to the Children's Festival is a very low $3.00 per person. Children can enjoy hours of entertainment with many imagination-themed activities. There are over 35 hands-on art, craft, science projects, and of course, the daily feeding of the litter-eating dragons, Rosabelle and Pebbles! Older children will enjoy candle making, pottery and wood working, while younger children will have a chance to make their own puppet, sand and easel art, and have faces painted. The whole family can also look forward to child-focused stage performances and yummy food from our Dragon Deli.

This year the Children's Festival has 3 general sessions over a 3-day period:

Saturday, July 7	-	Session 1:	4:30-8:30pm Evening Session
Sunday, July 8	-	Session 2:	4:30-8:30pm Evening Session
Monday, July 9	-	Session 3:	10am-1:30pm Morning Session

To find out more about the Children's Festival please visit www.storytellingguild.org or join us at www.facebook.com/storytellingguild.